DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 2 and 3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.121(d)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Harada et al (US Patent 5,442,368).

Harada et al disclose, in figure 4, an antenna device comprising a first electrically conductive loop 50a, a feed point (11,12), a second electrically conductive loop 10 disposed within the first conductive loop, wherein the second loop comprises a conductor connected between a first point on the first loop and a second point on the first loop, and a tuning capacitor 30 connected in series with the feed point.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 5, 6-11, and 31-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harada et al in view of Parsche et al (US Patent 6,731,246).

The patent to Harada et al, described above, differs from the claimed invention because it does not disclose a tuning capacitor disposed along the the second conductive loop. Parsche et al disclose, in figure 1, a loop antenna 100 comprising a plurality of tuning capacitor 110 connected in series with the loop antenna to improve the current distribution around the loop and to adjust the center frequency of the antenna, see column 4, lines 7-20. It would have been obvious to provide the loop antenna of Harada with the tuning capacitor for improving the current distribution and adjusting the center frequency as taught by Parsche et al. Regarding claims 3, 5, 7, and 15-17, the specific shaped of the loop antenna is considered an obvious matter of design choice depending the desired characteristic of the antenna device.

The patents to Powell, Nakanishi, Mimura et al, Van Voorhies, Schmidt et al, Apostololos, Hill, Owen, Wine, and Hately et al are cited as of interest showing the antenna similar to that disclosed.
